
Contents

	Page
I. Introduction	1
The Role of State Programs in Worksite Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Benefits and Services	2
Purpose of This Guide	3
II. Tools You Can Use	3
III. Macro-Marketing: Definition and Benefits	4
IV. Components of a Macro-Marketing Effort	4
1. “GrassTop” Level Support	4
2. Partnerships with Local Employer Groups and Health Associations	5
3. Community Awareness and Education	6
V. Planning a Macro-Marketing Effort	7
Start-Up Checklist	7
VI. Implementing Macro-Marketing Activities	8
Activate A Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Business Task Group	8
Plan a Series of Presentations throughout the State on the Topic of Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention and Business	8
Conduct Media Outreach Efforts to Help Raise General Awareness of and Support for Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Interventions at the Worksite	9
VII. Persuade Business Leaders and Organizations to Support Heart Disease and Stroke Interventions	10
Set the Stage	10
Follow the 80/20 principle	10
Have a plan ready for the decision-maker	10
Take a client-oriented approach	11
Use open-ended comments or questions to identify needs	11
Prepare for and respond to client “objections”	11
Summarize your discussion before the close	12
Use close-ended questions to reach a commitment	12
Follow up	13

Summary.....	13
VIII. Tip Sheets and Resources	14
Key Messages.....	14
Sample Letter to Business Organizations.....	16
Gathering Health and Economic Costs.....	17
Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention and Business Workshop Planning Tool.....	18
Sample Agenda for Full-Day Workshop.....	20
Sample Agenda for a Lunch-and-Learn Program	20
Examples of State Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Programs.....	21
Available Resources	24
Research Findings for the Toolkit	26
Most Promising Interventions for CVH in Worksite Settings.....	26
Most Promising Practices in the Health Care Settings	26

Mission of CDC's State Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Program:

To provide public health leadership to improve cardiovascular health for all, reduce the burden of cardiovascular disease, and eliminate disparities associated with heart disease and stroke.

