RE: Respiratory Protective Devices
42 CFR Part 84
Federal Register Volume 59, No. 99. pp. 26850-26893

COMMENT: Our committee supports the above captioned proposed rule requiring manufacturers to establish filter standards for respiratory protective device certification. It is our position that Type C filters with 95% filter efficiency, along with engineering controls and an effective employee health program, will provide acceptable protection for most health care worker needs.
